Hope Palestine Issue May Be Solved By U.N.

Delegates See Hope Of Settlement Following Soviet's Support Of Partition

RUSSIAN STAND IS SAME AS U. S.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Hope grew today that one of the most dangerous world issues before the United Nations General Assembly—partitioning of Palestine—will be solved at the present session, despite East-West deadlocks on other tin-diebox disputes.

The Soviet Union's historic declaration yesterday, reluctantly lining up with the United States and the majority in favor of separate Arab and Jewish states, was denounced by some Arab delegates.

Helps Situation
But UN circles viewed it as helping to clear the atmosphere and reducing the danger of an Arab invasion of the Holy Land, in view of the huge Soviet military potential.

Although the violent dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union over the Greek question has not diminished, acceptance of America and Russia alike of the U. N. Palestine commissions major recommendation opened a broad area of agreement which may lead to the healing of some other wounds.

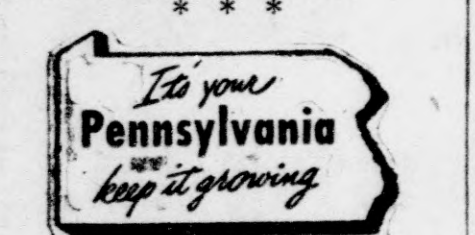

Delegates and U. N. officials alike were of the opinion today that a common policy by the United States, Russia, Britain, France and

Pa Newc Observes

J. G. Anderson, 42 North Mill street, brought to his place of business a strange looking calendula plant. The flowers of the plant grew normally, and went to seed but instead of the seeds falling to the ground they resprouted on the head of the flower and grew 15 more yellow blooms. The calendula plant closely resembles the marigold.

Taylor street between Neal and South Mill streets is being prepared by workmen for application of blacktop. A portion of the curb on the street has been laid. The work will make a big improvement in the area and provide a smoother artery to South Mill street.

Name plates have not yet arrived for a number of streets about the city, it is observed by Pa Newc. The standard erected at White and South Mill streets fails to carry a designation sign.

Leaves should not be burned on asphalt carvings as real damage will be done to the streets. If they are burned, the leaves should be taken away from any frame structure to prevent the buildings from catching fire.

To Make Secret Study Of Result Of 'Bombing' Hurricane On Monday

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 14.—(INS)—The tropical storm which devastated the Florida coast moved northward today after flyers who bombarded the hurricane with dry ice described their operation as a "complete success."

The initial and possibly epochal attack on the hurricane was made yesterday by three converted army bombers.

The Washington weather bureau located the storm at 4:30 EST this morning at about 100 miles south-southwest of Cape Hatteras, moving north-northeast about 10 miles an hour.

The weather bureau added that there was no indication of a change in the storm's course or other unusual aftermath that could be attributed to the joint army-navy "operation cirrus."

No Attempt To Bust Storm
Scientists and crew members engaged in the experiment emphasized, however, that no attempt was made to "bust" the storm.

Vincent Schaefer of the General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y., explained that the "bombing" was termed a success because the primary purpose of the experiment was to study hurricane phenomena.

Private Loans To Aid Europe To Be Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich. disclosed today that he will propose to the Senate Appropriations Committee next month that a large portion of any Marshall plan aid to Europe be extended as private loans to unutilized private industries abroad.

Ferguson decided on making the formal proposal after releasing a letter from a French industrialist who charged that American money already granted has been "used to build Communism in France."

Following release of the letter, the Export-Import bank announced it had given France permission to divert about ninety million dollars in United States loan funds to buy American coal and other raw materials.

Aid Only Nationalized

The sum to be withdrawn represents about half of the approximately 185 million dollars that remains of the 650 millions in credit granted France by the bank in May, 1946, and was made available

Marshall Will Address C.I.O. On Wednesday

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 14.—(INS)—The CIO convention resolutions committee, overriding the left-wing minority, today approved U. S. economic aid to Europe and international inspection of atomic energy.

It criticized obstructionist use of the big five veto in the United Nations security council.

The expected floor fight on American foreign policy is not scheduled to occur until after Secretary of State George C. Marshall's address tomorrow afternoon.

Slap At Minority

But the invitation to Marshall, author of the plan denounced by the Soviet Union, was itself regarded as a slap at the minority.

This group applauded Sen. Claude Pepper (D) Fla., yesterday, when he called the Marshall plan "a foreign policy that brooks no war."

As a compromise, actual mention of the Marshall plan by name is omitted from the resolution committee's report.

It urges, "in support of our nation's fight against hunger throughout the world, prompt action to provide food and other economic aid for the rehabilitation of their countries."

The right wing applauded Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston when he appealed for support of the plan.

The report was vitriolic in its condemnation of the Taft-Hartley act. It pledged the convention to fight for its repeal and for the defeat at the polls of all congressmen who voted for it.

British Patrol Reported Missing

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—British military authorities in Austria reported today that one of their patrols has been missing for two days, having disappeared on a journey toward the Yugoslav frontier.

Strike Ties Up Transportation In Paris Today

PARIS, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Parisian workers walked, hitchhiked and rode to factories and offices on bicycles and in army trucks today when transportation was paralyzed by a general strike of subway and bus workers.

The government, which tried vainly to get the Paris strikers back to work, also was plagued by what amounted to a general strike of merchant seamen in most French ports.

Officers and men walked off their vessels yesterday to attend strike meetings, and many were still out pending a decision by the Merchant Seamen's Federation later today on whether to call an official walkout.

Soldiers and police drove trailer-equipped army trucks and other vehicles to get stranded Parisians to their jobs.

Power plants and other strategic buildings were guarded by police who took over idle bus terminals which had been occupied by the strikers.

Premier Ramadier called the Paris strike a "political maneuver" by the Communist-dominated Confederation of Labor.

Coalition Will Govern Rome

ROME, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Communist-led people's bloc won last Sunday's municipal election by about 4,000 votes but Premier De Gasperi's Christian Democrat party claimed today its strong showing was tantamount to a victory.

Virtually complete returns showed the Christian Democrats almost doubled their vote of a year ago, while the People's bloc increased its vote about 10 per cent.

It appeared a coalition of Christian Democrats and the Rightist Common Man movement, which came in third, will govern Rome. All Italy kept an anxious eye on results of the election because it is regarded as a harbinger of things to come in next spring's national elections.

Man Killed When Bus-Truck Collide

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—One man was killed and 13 persons injured today when a produce truck and a Mon Valley bus collided head-on in Pittsburgh.

The dead man was Joseph J. Josphowitz, of McKeesport, driver of the truck.

Police said Josphowitz apparently failed to see a cement mixer that was standing in the street and swerved his truck and crashed into the bus.

The injured, all passengers in the bus, were taken to a hospital and after treatment were discharged.

Meatless Day Cooperation Is Being Watched

National Committee Expects Better Cooperation On Second Day Of Program

PUSH PLANS TO SAVE MORE GRAIN

By WILLIAM UMSTEAD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Truman's food conservation committee scheduled its second meeting today as the distilling and restaurant industries lined up solidly behind the drive to save grain for hungry Europe.

Chairman Charles Luckman and other committee members who met today kept a watchful eye for signs of public cooperation in observing the second meatless Tuesday of the conservation campaign.

Hopeful Of Support

The committee is hopeful that public support, which admittedly was lacking last Tuesday, will back up the pledges of cooperation already obtained from the nation's distillers and restaurants.

A spokesman for Luckman said that the committee, composed of 26 prominent Americans, probably will "take a general look at the whole food situation" at its first session since the food-saving drive got underway.

An agreement by 36 of 39 major distilleries to shutdown for 60 days beginning Oct. 26 to save 10 million bushels of grain for Europe highlighted the latest developments in the conservation campaign.

Shortly after the distillers agreed to the shutdown, representatives of the restaurant industry gave their full backing to the program and offered a 17-point conservation plan for public eating places.

Other Developments

Other developments included: President Truman called upon governors of the 48 states to

AFL Battles On Elimination Of Vice Presidents

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The major battle of the 66th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was billed today with John L. Lewis expected to be in the thick of the fighting.

The battle will come over the recommendation of the AFL executive council that the 13 AFL vice presidents be eliminated to bypass the situation created by refusal of Lewis to sign a non-communist affidavit.

While this storm was brewing at the convention, AFL President William Green turned down a plea from the rival Congress of Industrial Organizations, meeting in Boston, for joint political action.

Green committed the AFL to conducting its own election campaign. He declared the two groups must become one before they attempt to join forces for a political campaign.

GEORGE WINTER JR.

Tonight at 6:15 o'clock in The Castleton hotel, some 250 volunteer workers of the Community Chest drive will meet in a dinner session to receive last-minute instructions for the campaign which will get underway Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Chairman Winter today urged all the workers to be present as the eve of worthwhile endeavor in the community approaches.

Extra-Horse-And-Buggy Crash!

In the year 1947, this is a real "believe it or not" and it isn't out of grandpa's picture album. In fact, so rare have become runaways and buggy crashes that thousands of New Yorkers gathered to witness the one pictured above. The carriages involved are the picturesque hacks which drive tourists around Central Park. Just imagine, one of the horses was frightened by one of those horseless buggies.

Congressman Declares No Special Session Need

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Rep. Jenkins (R) Ohio, a member of the Special House European Study Committee, declared today that conditions overseas are not so serious as to require a special session on Congress.

The dean of the Ohio Congressional delegation disagreed with the views advanced by President Truman that western Europe, especially France and Italy, must obtain aid by December. The President proposed that Congress vote $80 million dollars in stopgap aid to tide European over the winter.

Jenkins stated: "I don't think the facts bear out that conclusion. As far as conditions (Continued on Page Two)

Forced To Make Landing On Rough Sea In Atlantic—Ship Is Standing By

CAN'T TRANSFER PASSENGERS YET (BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—A huge four-motored flying boat, carrying 69 passengers and crew members, made a safe emergency landing today in mid-Atlantic and rescuers began battling towering seas and gale-like winds to transfer the occupants to a nearby watership.

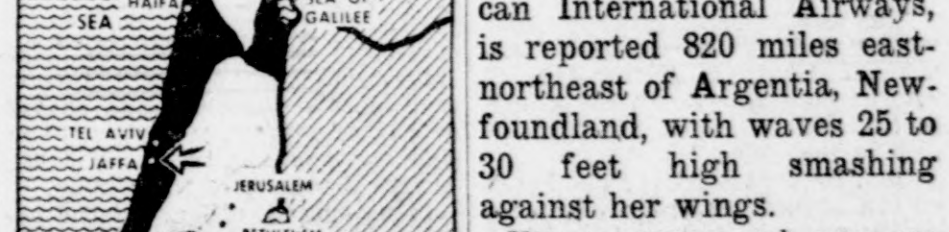

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—A large Boeing flying boat, with 69 passengers and crew on board, made a safe, emergency landing in mid-Atlantic at 5 a. m. today, but winds of gale force prevented an immediate transfer of passengers to a nearby Coast Guard cutter.

The stricken hsp, operated on charter flights by American International Airways, is reported 820 miles east-northeast of Argentina, Newfoundland, with waves 25 to 30 feet high smashing against her wings.

Her passengers and crew are to abandon ship in life rafts as soon as the sea moderates or she begins to take water.

(American International Airways is not to be confused with American Overseas Airlines. The latter line is not operating over the Atlantic at the present time due to a strike of pilots.)

Truck-Trailer Driver Is Hurt

Injured When Truck Fails To Make Turn At Underpass Near Moravia

When a tractor and semi-trailer failed to negotiate a turn at the underpass at Moravia on Route 18, about 6:30 p. m. Monday, it upset, knocked down a pole, tore out some guard posts and rolled over on its side, according to State police. The trailer was loaded with butter.

The driver, Everette Ackers, 29, of 1464 Elm street, Terrace Hunt, Ind., was injured and is in the New Castle hospital. He has skull injuries, and contusions of the upper part of his body.

The cab caught fire but a workman at a nearby welding shop put out the flames with an extinguisher before it could spread to the trailer.

The trailer was loaded with several hundred cartons of butter. A delivery had been made at Beaver Falls and the vehicle was enroute to New Castle and Oil City to make deliveries.

Arthur Mometer

Ho for the life of a football coach, it's hardly a life of peace; one day his team mows the other one down and the backs are like a streak of grease. Then comes a game when things don't jell, and the team can't seem to get going; it's then that the coach wishes he were out on an island where it was snowing. If he guesses right, he's a genius, if he guesses wrong, he's a heel. I often wonder how coaches live and just how they sometimes feel. When the Monday quarterbacks take him apart and dissect his every play, it's then he longs for an island home—it's bright, sixty-eight today.

Library Reports Big Circulation On Opening Day

The New Castle public library got off to an excellent start on its opening day, Monday, with a total circulation of 934 books being borrowed during the day.

From 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. a constant stream of borrowers returned the huge stacks of books they borrowed for the summer months. The library staff worked continuously to keep abreast with the borrowers returning books.

Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, announced that for the next few days there will be no fines imposed on borrowers having books out for the summer, but these books are to be returned as soon as possible.

A total count showed that 361 fiction books were borrowed, 164 non-fiction books, 239 juvenile books at the main library, totaling 764 books, and together with the Mahoning branch of 170 volumes, the entire total number of books borrowed on Monday was 934. New York Express Workers Go Back

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Railway Express agency resumed operations today faced with a backlog of 500,000 packages which accumulated during the twenty-five days the agency's trucks were on strike.

The agency announced that there will be no pickups made until this backlog is eliminated. Employees went back to work at midnight in terminals in New York, Jersey City, Hoboken and Weehawken in agreement with Mayor William O'Dwyer's proposal that a special fact-finding committee appointed by President Truman investigate their demands.

Pa Newc Observes

it this week. Incidentally, if you have a friend who is in service overseas somewhere, it might not be a bad idea to send him his Christmas box this week, so he will be sure to get it by Christmas.

About the only way to keep the stone pillars on the Diamond crest is to place strong steel poles in front of the masonry work. Pa Newc suggests. One of the pillars on the west end of the square remains prostrate due to a recent accident there.

Pennsylvania Week programs are highlighting the schedules of many city schools. Interesting incidents of earlier days in the history of our state are being re-enacted.

Repaving of the Wilmington road from Walmo north, has made a great difference in the appearance of the highway and the properties along the route, due to change in grade at numerous places along the route.

Last night was the foggiest night of the year, a blanket of mist enveloping the district, starting long before midnight. This morning, the particles of moisture could be seen in the air like a fine rain.

The street department is to be commended for its fine work in filling up holes in the streets with asphalt. However, it missed one alongside a manhole cover on Winter avenue, just east of Carlisle street, which is most annoying to motorists.

City electricians have erected a flasher type traffic light at the intersection of Wilmington and Moody avenues. Installation took place yesterday. The light flashes red on Moody avenue and amber on Wilmington avenue. It was installed as a safety device, and got its first workout in a fog early this morning.

There seems to be a great deal of confusion about the display of our flag, particularly on military installations and government buildings, in memory of the war dead who are being brought home from overseas. According to Army Times, an official publication from Washington, D. C., President Truman's order in this regard directed that the flag be displayed on October 10 and October 26 only, when memorial services were arranged for these men on the ships bearing their bodies docked and when memorial services were to be held in San Francisco and New York. This does not mean that they shall be displayed at half-mast on the intervening dates.

A. F. L. BATTLES ON

the proposal to eliminate the 13 vice presidents was anticipated when the recommendation is reported to the convention.

Report Scheduled Today
A federation spokesman disclosed that the report on the proposal was scheduled for today because a lengthy dispute was anticipated, and it would be impossible to plan for final adjournment of the convention Thursday until this matter is settled.

Lewis' refusal to sign an anti-railroad affidavit blocks some 292,000 members of AFL federal unions from resorting to the National Labor Relations Board for protection.

These unions are represented by the AFL executive council of which Lewis is now one of 13 vice presidents.

The executive council proposal would eliminate the 13 vice presidents and leave them merely as members of the council. The only officers left would be President William Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany, who have signified their willingness to sign non-communist affidavits.

It was reported that when the proposal was adopted by the executive council only Lewis and William "Big Bill" Hutchison of the carpenters union dissented.

OPENING LUNCHEON OF READING CIRCLE

Luncheon at a tearoom in New Wilmington opened the 1947-48 season of the Reading Circle when luncheon was served at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mrs. Clement Clausen and Mrs. David Tomkins as the committee in charge of arrangements.

An excellent review of Agnes Sligh Turnbull's new book, "The Bishop's Mantle" was given by Mrs. Samuel Staats as the program feature of the afternoon.

"A Summer Adventure" was related by each member in answer to roll call.

Mrs. John Z. Street, retiring president, after thanking members for their support during the past year, turned the chair over to Mrs. Ira Ramsey, who gave the club greeting.

During business a contribution to the Community Chest was voted and there was discussion of planning along the Blue Star Highway. It was the consensus that the club wait and give trees when planting is underway closer to this section of the state.

Announcement of the open house at Almiria Home on October 29 was made by Mrs. J. F. Rentz. Donations for Donation Day may be taken to the home then or to the November meeting of the Reading Circle as has been the custom of the circle for some years.

Dates when the circle will be the hostess group for serving at Jamestown Memorial hospital were announced. November 3 and 12.

Mrs. Ethel H. Forver is chairman. Announcement was made of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs fall luncheon meeting on Tuesday, October 21, in the First Presbyterian church, for which the Reading Circle will be the hostess group. Luncheon arrangements are in charge of Mrs. H. D. Harlan and Mrs. H. N. Drio.

Committees were appointed with the following departmental chairmen named: Mrs. T. L. Nixon, American Home and Education; Mrs. M. M. Ingham, Citizenship and Legislation; Mrs. H. N. Drio, Conservation-Garden; Mrs. H. D. Harlan, International Relations and Peace Service; Mrs. John Z. Street, Public Welfare and Youth Conservation; Mrs. R. R. McGeorge.

Next meeting will be November 10 in the home of Mrs. Brant E. Sankey, 225 Hazelcroft avenue.

CURRENT EVENTS CLASS LUNCHEON

Current Events class opened its fall season with a one o'clock luncheon in a tea room on Highland avenue Monday afternoon, Oct. 13.

Members responded to roll call by telling a humorous story. Highlight of the afternoon's program was a very interesting account by Miss Rebekah Wilkison of her tour to Europe before the war. Her talk, due to conditions in Europe at the present time, was one of unusual interest to the group and held the group's close attention.

In two weeks, on October 27, the class will meet at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. H. D. Hanna, 401 East Lincoln avenue.

GIBBONS COLLEY CHURCH NUPTIALS

At a candlelight ceremony in the First Christian church on Saturday evening, October 11, Miss Mary Jane Gibbons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bernard Gibbons, of 410 East Meyer avenue, became the bride of John Edward Colley, son of Harry John Colley, of 1309 North Mercer street. Dr. G. S. Bennett officiated at the 7:30 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, off-the-shoulder style, trimmed with Alencon lace, the bodice basque style above a full skirt that fell into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of ivory illusion fell from a soft headband roll of ivory satin. She carried a white Bible with a marker of gardenias, stephanotis, and streamers, and wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Agnes Swanson, as the bride's maid of honor, wore a gown of gold watered taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet. Bridesmaids, the Misses Jeanne Lewis, Dorothy McFeaters, and Alice Gribben, wore gowns of turquoise blue watered taffeta and carried colonial bouquets. Miss Martha Lee Hawkins, as flower girl, was gown in shell pink taffeta.

Sylvester Wilder served the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Tom Colley Hawkins, John Bertram Gibbons and Edward Calahan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan, of Oakmont, sang as a duet "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Morgan as a solo, "Because" and Mr. Morgan, the Lord's Prayer.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 100 guests in the home of the bride's parents where refreshments were served buffet style. A tiered wedding cake centered the buffet in the dining room decorated with arrangements of pink and white flowers in moonlight blue glass bowls and white candles in glass holders of the same blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Colley left by car on a trip through New York state and upon their return will be at home after October 20 at 413 East Meyer avenue.

NARDINA ROSETA WEDS D. PECCARDO

St. Vitus church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding on October 11, when Miss Nardina Roseta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prospero Roseta, of Ridgeway, Pa., became the bride of Dominic Peccardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peccardo of 424 Galbreath avenue.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso officiated at the ceremony, using the double ring service. Ferns and flowers embanked the altar, and many friends and relatives attended the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of white nylon, princess style, with seed pearls and sequins, made to train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of orange and apple blossoms, and she carried a prayer book marked with gardenias and streamers of white baby mums.

Miss Mary Elisco, as maid of honor, wore a colonial gown of blue taffeta and nylon with a sweetheart headress and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Bridesmaids were Blanche Roseta, sister of the bride, and Rose Sette, cousin of the bride, of Ridgeway, who wore more taffeta colonial gowns of dusty roses, with sweetheart headresses and mits to match. They carried colonial bouquets of pink roses.

Anthony Crudell, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were his brothers, Walter and Leo Peccardo.

A wedding dinner was served to 30 guests, and a reception was held at the Savoia hall from six to 10 p. m. The young couple were recipients of many lovely and useful gifts.

Later they departed on a wedding trip to Ohio and New York. Mrs. Peccardo, a graduate of the New Castle Hospital school of nursing, is a member of the hospital nursing staff. Mr. Peccardo is employed at the National Radiator company. They will reside at 1815 Pennsylvania avenue.

Congressmen Get Ideas In Europe

PARIS, France, Oct. 14.—As a result of the journeying of perhaps a fourth of the American Congress through Europe and the Near East, one decision is now fairly clear. Whatever the final form and dimension of the Marshall plan as it emerges from the Congress, it will not be administered by the department of state.

Members of Congress of varying shades of political belief are carrying home the conviction that a new instrument must be found; that anything on the scale envisioned by the Marshall plan cannot be entrusted to any of the old-line government departments.

Several Reasons
There are several reasons for this conviction. One is the poor impression which our diplomatic representation abroad made on the traveling congressmen. They did not, of course, stop to ask themselves how much they were to blame for the weaknesses they found.

The returning congressmen believe that our diplomats, given their conditioning and background, could not be counted on to see that American resources were used wisely. This comes not merely from chronic grumblers and doubters such as Representative John Taber of New York, who stands guard over the House Appropriations committee. Democrats on the liberal side—Mike Monroney of Oklahoma for example—are of the same opinion.

Take Home Ideas
Along with this basic conviction the returning travelers are taking home a number of ideas about how the plan can be carried out. In fact, when the debate begins, a multiplicity of ideas will be brought forward and the danger is likely to be a bill that in final passage is so complicated as to be almost unworkable.

Most of the constructive ideas center around a government corporation to administer and supervise the spending of Marshall plan funds and the allocation of resources. This instrumentality might bear a family resemblance to the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

At the top would be a non-political board of directors. They would have over-all supervisory powers. Subsidiary corporations might be formed in partnership with each nation participating in the plan.

The top corporation might be given an initial grant of, say, $4,000,000,000. It would be empowered to issue non-interest bearing bonds up to a fixed amount. Thus the blow to the American taxpayer would be softened.

Terms Of Repayment
Returning congressmen are also talking in terms of repayment not in dollars, which is generally conceded to be impossible, but in raw materials. Belgium, for example, would repay us in uranium for dollars. The repayment would not come until after European rehabilitation was well advanced.

It is possible to foresee the structure of a government corporation to administer the Marshall plan. When it comes down to naming specific men to run the corporation, the difficulties begin. But this is not the chief question mark.

The real question is where, in such a structure, our ambassadors and ministers, with their staffs, would fit in. A government corporation with billions to spend and allocate would certainly become the major instrument of foreign policy in Europe. It is an ancient rule of politics that power attracts power.

We can already see in Greece the kind of conflicts that grow out of divided authority. In some respects Greece is a sort of proving ground which the Marshall planners would do well to study with care.

Look To U. S. Mission
In Athens the American aid mission is doing the spending and allocating. Quite understandably, the Greeks are looking to the mission rather than to the embassy. This has made for cross-purpose (Continued on Page Ten)

TRANSPORTATION AND EATS

Transportation means carrying from one place to another.

When we travel we want to go quickly and comfortably.

The old car had a pretty good job but it was not quick nor comfortable.

In preparing cattle for market we transport them from farm to fat. It is something like transportation. People may be taken from thin to sleek too.

The process should be as quick, as comfortable and as economical as possible.

Meat helps eaters to get nourishment quickly and comfortably. Cattle eat corn and hay for food. They make it into beef, which is a more condensed form of food and more efficiently used by our bodies.

Meat and cheese and eggs provide animal protein.

Children and youth need lots of protein. Old people do too.

"Bombers Moon"

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BAD LANGUAGE IS PROBLEM

Some children of varying ages curse their parents and a few parents curse their children.

But some parents, even preachers' wives, write me of the child who curses and swears much to the embarrassment of the parents who themselves employ exemplary speech. The following letter is about a swearing child, 3½, whose uncle uses vile language in this child's presence. Apparently most of the child's playmates do not swear.

Uses Bad Language

"My little boy, 3½ years old, uses very bad language. Swearing at his worst. The neighbors are complaining and the children themselves tell me about it. I have soaped his mouth, spanked him and made him sit in a chair."

"There are several people that come to our house, one an uncle, that uses vile language. My husband thinks if we ignore his swearing he will get over it."

It is possible that to ignore this child's swearing might cause him to discontinue swearing. Yet the parents of your child's playmates are not likely to ignore it and, so long as the uncle and other adults often use vile language in the presence of that child he might incline to try "to be big" too.

It might be possible to prevail on these adults to set the proper example of speech, even to command them effectively to do so. But as I wrote this mother, this child is about old enough to learn to be responsible for his own acts. Almost any child will hear some profanity sooner or later.

I assume that you have made clear to this child that he shall not use certain words and that when he does so in your presence he will have to pay immediately an effective penalty that won't be jawing nor an orgy of emotions.

Not Much Sense

I have never seen much sense in the soap treatment. It grows out of the notion that punishment always should be suited to the offense. Yet the basic purpose of punishment is to connect the definite undesirable behavior so surely and closely with discomfort that the act itself will become so unattractive or repellent as not to be repeated. You have punished him after some person has tattled on him—too late and uncertain to be effective.

Your pressing problem is to lessen occasion for parents to complain of your child's swearing. Therefore, any effective punishment scheme would require that you be always within hearing distance. (Continued on Page Ten)

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

Tonight the various committee chairmen . . . men and women . . . will gather in the Castleton Hotel for the kick-off dinner that will send the Community Chest Red Feather fluttering over the Country Side. It is hoped that every good American Citizen will within a week's time be wearing a Red Feather in his hat . . . or displaying the emblem on the front door of his home.

Maybe some have this note of wonder in their minds . . . where does the money come from that is used to feed the folks who attend the kick-off dinner . . . Let me assure you friends . . . the money that will pay for the dinner does not come from out of the Campaign Fund. A local industry foots the bill . . . and to our way of thinking is one of the fine points about our local industry.

The managements of industry and business houses feel that every cent the people of New Castle contribute to the Community Chest Fund should be used for the 12 agencies concerned . . . and right they are. For it's the 12 agencies concerned that do a great deal to make our community the pleasant place that it is.

It has been suggested that at least two dollars be forth coming from each citizen of this community . . . spread that two dollars out over the entire year and of course you see at once that it isn't even one cent per day . . . but since some will be unable to contribute the above amount . . . it will be necessary for the professional group, doctors, lawyers, etc., business houses and industry to carry a larger portion of the burden.

The eyes of the world are upon New Castle . . . Believe it or not. Peoples from all over have been watching our progress . . . they have been amazed at the progress we have made since the days of 1933 and '39 . . . For it's the 12 agencies concerned that do a great deal to make a Community Chest quota is one sure way of showing that a Community is alive or asleep at the switch . . . We will make our quota in New Castle.

Hints On Etiquette

If a young man is invited to a girl friend's home for dinner, he should seat her mother before he does the daughter, unless of course, the father seats his wife, when the young man is free to seat the younger woman.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

If New Yorkers had any civic spirit they would be very jealous of Painesville, Ohio, a city of approximately 12,500 population.

Twelve masked bandits with machine guns robbed 250 patrons in the exclusive Mounds Club near that city, getting jewelry, cash and furs worth about $500,000.

Something must be decidedly wrong with New York when bandits have to go to Painesville, Ohio, for their exploits.

What has become of all the suckers that used to go to New York's night clubs loaded with diamonds and furs, the pockets swelling with cash, all juicy and ripe for holdup men and every other kind of swindler and thug?

Those New York holdups used to be such nice publicity for the newly rich. It read so well in next morning's paper that Mrs. Jane Doe, wife of the famous John Does who made ten million dollars in second-hand tin cans, had been held up in the Platinum Slipper Club and relieved of $100,000 worth of diamonds, a sable coat trimmed with mink, and a $50,000 tiara of sapphires, rubies and pearls.

It was such wonderful advertising for her husband and it made all the neighbors and friends jealous that they, too, hadn't been held up or that their apartments had not been robbed of $75,000 worth of jewelry and clothes while they were attending the premiere at the Metropolitan Opera (in the Diamond Horseshoe, of course).

Frankly, I never heard of Painesville before, so I asked a fellow from Ohio.

He tells me that Painesville is situated near Cleveland, Canton, and Erie, Pa., and that a lot of the safe society of those cities do their gambling and carousing in that town which is supposed to be wide open.

Mind you, I don't know; I only take the Ohioan's word for it.

I have heard several stories that under the administration of New York's Mayor O'Dwyer the crooks of the nation's metropolis don't feel nearly as comfortable as they used to under previous administrations, and that a lot of them are looking for new fields of endeavor.

So since some of the night-provoking gentry may come to your town, let me give you a piece of advice:

Don't be a fool. Don't wear all your expensive geggaws and your best furs when you go out at night. That's just what the crooks are looking for.

It's one thing to let the world know how prosperous you are. It's another thing to get conked over the head with the butt of a pistol or to be shot at with a machine gun.

It's one thing to be known as the rich Mrs. Doe and another to have your paper call you "the late Mrs. Doe."

There would be a lot less crime if a lot of suckers didn't make it so easy to commit crime. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The World and the Mud Puddles

JUST ANOTHER RACKET

One of the gay pastimes in America is "polling" people to determine in advance what they will do under certain specific circumstances.

Originally it was called taking a straw vote, limited largely to forecasting results of approaching elections. Ambitious and enterprising newspapers were the principal offenders. They ran tickets in their papers and invited their readers to mark their ballots and send them in. From these ballots the paper ran big headlines in advance as "election returns."

Fatal Result

The practice became so popular, however, that the old Literary Digest took it up in a big way and which everybody knows, resulted in its sudden and untimely death. For a time the Digest seemed uncanny and phenomenal in its predictions of coming events through its straw votes. Its circulation grew by leaps and bounds and it was well on its way to fame and fortune until it predicted the election of Herbert Hoover over Franklin Roosevelt for the presidency. It gave the states and almost the precincts that were going for Hoover. People bet their money, giving long odds, on the strength of the Digest's forecast. When the election went the other way with landslide proportions the poor old Literary Digest gave up the ghost and died in disgrace.

But the game of taking polls appealed to popular interest and others started riping their necks in finding this long felt want.

Bible Thought

Labour not to be rich; cease from thine own wisdom.—Proverbs 23:4.

Shies At Pushbutton Flying

By PAUL GALLICO

Not long ago, an airliner flew across the Atlantic and back "no hands," that is to say, an automatic pilot was in complete control and no member of the crew touched or guided the aircraft from take-off to landing. I am sure that this is a marvelous invention and great scientific progress, but I do not think I am going to like it.

Not that I have any idea of standing in the way of progress. If the pushbutton airplane is just around the corner, so be it; I am merely getting on record that automatic flight will hold no joys for me. I am sufficiently terrified as it is when I am sealed up in one of those enormous flying apartment houses with a driver and assistant driver sitting at the wheel.

Remain Highly Suspicious

I do not know about your temperament but I seem to belong to a class of people who remains highly suspicious of things that operate by pushbuttons and with no visible human agency about. For instance, I am still very uncomfortable when confronted with one of those automatic elevators where you enter, close both gates, select your floor from a row of numbered buttons, poke one of them and off you go.

True, one cannot go very far astray in an elevator. Nevertheless, I find the presence of an accompanying pilot extremely comfortable, even on a short trip. It is a human contact, someone who will extend sympathy and answer questions should the soulfulness, brainless and completely implacable machinery suddenly fail.

Never Happy In Them

Mind you, I will enter and rise or descend in one of these automatic lifts if confronted with one, but I am never happy in them. There is always the thought—what do I do if it suddenly stops between floors and refuses to continue? True, there is usually a button marked "Emergency" but I could never push it. First of all, who is to diagnose the situation as an emergency and, secondly, I do not believe I would have the strength or the courage to face up to the possibility that after I had pushed the "Emergency" one, it wouldn't work either. As long as one hadn't pushed it there would still be hope.

Affected In Same Manner

Airplanes affect me in somewhat the same manner. And you cannot accuse me of not being air-minded since I have held a private pilot's license and operated my own flying machine in the old days when they were made of honest plywood and stout canvas instead of being monsters of steel and glass. When in charge of my own destiny guiding my own contraption I always felt capable of holding it in the air with the muscles of my stomach, should wings or engines fail, and frequently did. I have even managed to keep some enormous airliners piloted by capable young men aloft with the support of my gastric sinews. But let's face it, a pilotless plane is a pilotless plane. I would never be able to establish contact of my own frantic desires to survive with an electronic gadget called "George" or "Bill," ticking away completely unmindful of the panic surging through my middle.

Wish I Were Somewhere Else

As long as flying was something one could feel, and in our old kites we could fly by the seat of our pants and savor the solidity of the air beneath our wings, I was quite engaged to be a part of this new mode of transportation. But I cannot convince myself that these new monsters of the tonnage of a small freighter have any business rattling around in the sky, and when I am inside one I invariably wish I were somewhere else. And whereas I never had too much faith in the electric fan method of propulsion—a propeller attached to a gasoline engine—shortly I am going to be asked to place my trust in something that goes "PHOOOOOOOOOO" from its rear end and I will be in Kansas City.

All right, I'll play along, but don't, I beg of you, take away the young man who operates it and his assistants. I am entitled to have somebody around to soothe my nerves on a flight.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

All doubt as to the truly international character of the new so-called "information bureau" established by Communist leaders in Belgrade appeared dissipated today.

Action of the British Communist party in announcing full agreement with the Belgrade "dictate" removed any last lingering doubts as to the extent with which Communists everywhere intend to carry through full-scale ideological warfare against the Marshall plan.

The party and its spokesmen made it a special point to insist the Belgrade organization is not a new "comintern."

But in the same breath they expressed full determination to battle for the principles laid down at Belgrade.

Break With Laborites

They pledged themselves to fight for a governmental reorganization that will provide a "people's solution" of Britain's economic difficulties and of present financial woes throughout the world.

Their break with the Laborites can be traced only to Moscow's savage propaganda fight against the Marshall plan on the grounds of alleged American "imperialism."

It represents a far sharper cleavage between British communism and British socialism than had been anticipated.

The Socialist bloc in England that unseated Winston Churchill and installed Attlee has had comparatively little actual Communist participation.

William Gallagher and Philip Piratin are the sole Communist members of the House of Commons.

But the party has a place in the Socialist-Labor group. Its adherents have been inclined always to go along with Attlee as an "anti-dote" to Toryism.

Situation Is Altered
Now the situation is altered and British Communists have gone right "down the line" with the Belgrade decisions.

BANQUET TIME

Fill the fruit cups once again.

Have the tables plainly corded.

Serve the meat to please the men—

Tenderloin, and have it larded.

Peas and carrots in a dish;

And remember there's a reason

Some on Fridays ask for fish.

Hail once more the banquet season!

Get the ballroom; set the date.

Find as many as you're able

Of the city's rich and great

To adorn the master table.

Get a pretty girl to sing

Who will sit some baldhead's knee on.

Laughter from the throng to bring.

Hail once more the banquet season!

Have the camera man in place.

On his ladder bravely standing,

Calling, "This way, ever face!"

Pleading first and then commanding.

Put the old tuxedo on.

Purchased when the form was thinner.

Autumn's here and summer's gone.

Hail once more the annual dinner!

Civil Court Opens, Trial List Heavy

Deputy Adjutant General To Be Here October 20 To Explain Military
Burials

OTHER HAPPENINGS IN COURT HOUSE

Civil court opened Monday, Oct. 13, with a heavy calendar ahead. Settlements will probably be made in a number of cases, but the number of trials this time will likely exceed any civil term for a long time.

Before getting into the trials, Judge W. Walter Braham excused 30 of the 100 jurors called. Various reasons were given for the necessity of being excused from duty.

The first case to be called in court room number one was that of Alice M. Gaffney, administrator in the estate of the late Clyde Gaffney, and that of Donald R. Klingensmith against Dean Marshall. There are three suits in all, two of them being by Alice Gaffney. All arise out of the same set of circumstances.

On June 22, 1946, the cars of Clyde Gaffney and Dean Marshall collided in Union township, on route 422. Mr. Gaffney's injuries were such that he died the next day. Damages are asked. In the case of Donald Klingensmith he was a passenger in the Gaffney car.

MILITARY FUNERALS

A. Lewis Conn, in charge of veterans' affairs for Lawrence county, said today that Adjutant General Clyde E. Rankin will be in New Castle October 20 to address a meeting of citizens of six counties. The purpose of Mr. Rankin's visit is to explain the detail of the return of dead servicemen from overseas and to co-ordinate the activities of organizations here which will have part in the many services.

Next of kin of men who died overseas are invited to be present and hear Mr. Rankin's explanation. Under the rules there are four options in the matter of burying the remains of the dead servicemen.

The next of kin may have them returned to their home city for burial in a private cemetery. They may permit them to be buried in the country where they fell. They may have the bodies returned to this country for burial in national military cemeteries, or in case of a foreign born soldier or sailor or marine the remains may be sent to the homeland of the dead serviceman.

The meeting on October 20 will be in the court house. It will be for Lawrence, Mercer, Beaver, Butler, Armstrong and Venango counties.

Seek Woman In Pastor's Death Near Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 14.—(INS)—A seventeen state alarm was sent out today for a woman in black sought by police in the bludgeoning slaying of Rev. Carl Raymond Vaughn, Presbyterian minister, whose body was found in a tourist cabin at nearby Halethorpe, Md., Sunday.

Police said the woman is between the age of 45 and 50, stands 5 feet 6 inches and weighs approximately 165 pounds according to a description given by a waitress who identified Vaughn's picture as that of a man she served late Saturday in a Washington boulevard restaurant.

Accompanied By Woman
Lieut. Earl Smith of the Baltimore county police, said the waitress reported that the clergyman, whose home is in Pataskala, O., was accompanied by a stout woman "in a long black coat".

Detectives said that small footprints, discovered on the floor of the death cabin, indicated that the murderer was a boy or a woman. Besides the footprints, the only clues unearthed by investigators were bits of wood believed to have come from a pistol grip.

An autopsy disclosed that the minister died of a fractured skull and multiple additional injuries caused by a savage beating.

Had Been Threatened
The proprietor of the camp told police that Vaughn arrived late Saturday. Police said there was another occupant in the automobile but were unable to determine whether the second person was a man, boy or a woman.

Police also received reports from workers on Vaughn's "Boylan Magazine" in Ohio that he had recently been threatened for exposing charity rackets. Vaughn's pen name was C. Pat McGuire.

SMALL FIRE IN WEST SIDE HOME

City firemen were called to the home of John Santangelo, of 618 W. North street, at 11 o'clock this morning, by an alarm from Box 66. It was found that drapes, which had been placed too close to a gas stove in the kitchen ignited, burning the drapes and scorching the woodwork and wall paper. Damage of around $75 resulted from the blaze, Assistant Chief George W. Harper stated.

The largest insect known today, if wing expanse alone is considered, is the moth Erebus Agrippina, which has a wing spread of 11 inches. If bulk and body length are considered, the beetle Macrodonia cervicornis is the largest, it ranging up to six inches in length.

Loyalty Program Is Not Effective

Rep. Rees, Kansas, Chairman Of House Civil Service Committee, Makes Charge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Rep. Rees (R) Kans., chairman of the House Civil Service Committee, asserted today that the federal employee loyalty program is "grossly ineffective."

Rees urged Republican leaders to put through legislation replacing the loyalty-check procedure with a rigid probe under the control of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Kansas underscored his charges that the present program is inadequate by declaring that a known Communist is west coast regional director of the Public Housing Authority. He said:

"The FBI conducted an investigation in 1942 which revealed that at least eight reliable witnesses stated that he (the regional director) while in college and subsequently, was a member of the Communist party or was associated with Communist front organization and publications."

Rees said a check at District of Columbia police headquarters shows the man to whom he referred listed among known Communists.

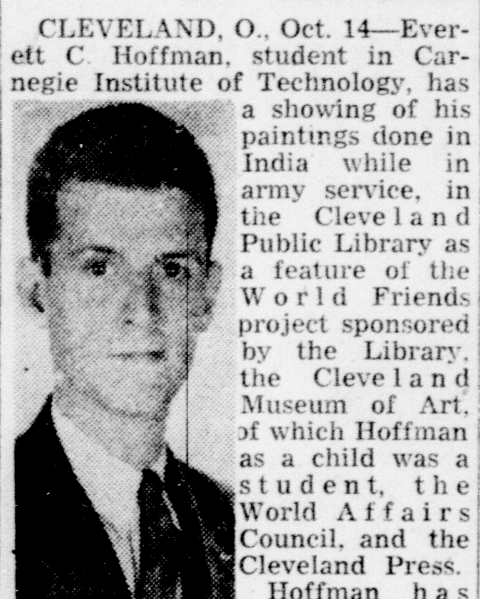

"This report of the investigation was furnished the National Housing Authority in 1942, but no action was taken."

The congressman said that in June, 1945, the Civil Service Commission authorized appointment of a man as regional director "subject to investigation" but that no further action was taken. Rees went on:

"He is a war-service employee, does not have classified status, and in spite of the derogatory information in the files of the FBI and the Civil Service Commission he has been continuously employed in the federal government for more than two years."

Hoffman Shows India Paintings At Cleveland

Everett C. Hoffman

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 14.—Everett C. Hoffman, student in Carnegie Institute of Technology, has a showing of his paintings done in India while in army service, in the Cleveland Public Library as a feature of the World Friends project sponsored by the Library.

The Cleveland Museum of Art, of which Hoffman as a child was a student, the World Affairs Council, and the Cleveland Press.

Hoffman has been painting since the age of 5. At 12 he began instruction in Gula Keagy's art school in New Castle, Pa., his family home. Living in Cleveland for several years he worked in the Museum studying with Price A. Chamberlin. He returned to New Castle, did a mural and wrote two children's books, all for the New Castle Library.

Sworn Into Air Corps

He entered Carnegie Tech but after a year of work was sworn into the Air Corps. At that time he won second prize in the Butler Art Institute's (of Youngstown) bi-annual. During his army career he had soldier shows in San Antonio and in Denver. Flying out to India he painted there and was in a two-man show at Khargpur, and with a Seabee he had the first art exhibit in the Micronesian Islands, besides sending work back to Cleveland and Denver where it was exhibited in each case. Returning to America, he re-entered Carnegie Tech, studying painting and industrial design, between terms working with the late L. Maholy Nagy at the Chicago Bauhaus and with Hobson Pittman.

Hoffman's family lived for a long time at 305 West Washington street, in New Castle, but have recently moved out into the country near that city.

Three male members of the student council, sponsor of the contest, had charge of the election and counted the ballots. They have pledged themselves not to reveal the identity of the winner until the intermission of the dance held at the Cathedral in New Castle.

The seven girls who are being kept in suspense are: Miss Hilma Stockhausen, Wesleyville; Evalen Dart, Greenville; Janet Stauffer, Pittsburgh; Joyce Geary, Pittsburgh; Nancy Henderson, Brookville; Lou Gill, Sharon, and Nancy Schwartz, Warren, Pa.

Soviet Tactics Are Assailed

Designed To Create Chaos And Confusion In Democratic Countries Says Landon

TOPEKA, Kans., Oct. 14.—(INS)—Alf M. Landon charged Monday that the Russian International is financing and sparking a third party movement in the United States and declared the revived Communist organization is a Soviet counter-attack against the Marshall plan.

The 1940 Republican presidential candidate said the people fostering the third party movement in America "are neither Republicans nor Democrats nor loyal Americans."

He told a reunion of the Twentieth Kansas Regiment of Spanish-American War fame:

"As a Republican, I would welcome a third party because it is obvious that that would take more votes from Mr. Truman in 1948 than it would from the Republican nominee. But as an American citizen I denounce the third party movement in the hands of those who are now its sponsors."

"It is purely and simply the Russian party in American politics attempting to stab us in the back. A third party taking its orders from any foreign country is nothing but a den of traitors."

The Kansas governor said it was his understanding that President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley bill has ruled out the formation of a third party headed by Henry Wallace and financed by P.A.C.

Declaring there are "riotous times" ahead in Europe and in America, Landon said he regarded the revival of the Comintern as a defensive move by the Russians. He added:

"The Marshall plan has been making progress, the Communists have been losing ground. It is sort of a counterattack."

Landon said the new Communist organization is the counterpart of the formation of the Axis and urged the United States to "keep our eye" on Russia. He said:

Kremlin Fearful
"The gangsters who rule the Kremlin are too fearful of their own weakness, not only in keeping pace with us in the field of new weapons, but they also know that the firing squad does not stimulate mass production as the free enterprise system does here in America."

"And mass production is essential to modern warfare."

Landon asserted that armed with the atomic bomb and modern technology, at which he termed the Russians "babes in the woods," America is the most "awe-inspiring military force the world has ever seen."

He said that Soviet tactics are designed to create chaos and confusion in the Democratic countries and sited the reorganization of the Comintern as an example. He declared:

"It is our job to prevent that here in America."

Landon told the Spanish-American War veterans that Communists take their orders from Moscow, and added:

"Therefore, any American is a traitor to his country who follows the Communist party line. Their attacks on President Truman will only solidify Americans behind the President's policies—but that does not improve them."

AMERICA'S GREATEST POSTWAR MOTOR CAR VALUES!

The KAISER and the FRAZER

—AND THE LUXURIOUS NEW FRAZER MANHATTAN

READ WHAT TYPICAL KAISER AND FRAZER OWNERS SAY ABOUT THE VALUES THEY GET FOR THEIR MONEY

Exceptional Gas Mileage—"My Frazer has performed beautifully in the mountains. On exact test it delivers over 18 miles per gallon on mountain driving."—From a Greensburg, Pa., Manufacturer.

Ease of Control—"My Kaiser is the easiest car to handle that I have ever driven—and I have given it some pretty hard tests in snow and mud."—From an Inkster, Mich., Factory Worker.

Amazing Performance—"I average about 2,000 miles a month, mostly in the lumber country where the roads are plenty rough and rugged. The performance of my Frazer has not only satisfied me—it has amazed me."—From a Los Angeles, Cal., Lumberman.

Comfort—"For riding comfort, roominess, visibility in driving, ease of handling, and pick-up, my Kaiser is better than any car I have ever owned or driven. I have driven it 6,000 miles."—From a S. Hadley Falls, Mass., Architect.

Quality Construction—"Having been a fleet truck operator for 15 years, I feel qualified to say that the component parts in my Frazer are the best to be obtained. Car can't be beat for comfort and smooth handling. It's a pleasure to highly recommend it to interested prospects who ask me about it almost every day."—From a Greensboro, N. C., Wholesaler.

Dependability—"I have driven my Kaiser 16,000 miles in just 16 weeks with practically no time out. It is my most important piece of equipment in traveling eleven southern states."—From a Dallas, Tex., Salesman.

Economy—"I now have 13,024 miles on my Frazer. I have the nicest riding car I ever owned and as for economy—well, I get as high as 25 miles to the gallon with the over-drive!"—From an Ida Grove, Ia., Real Estate Man.

Service—"Just returned from a 3,498-mile trip through Tenn., No. Carolina, So. Carolina, Ga., Fla., Ala., and La., and found Kaiser-Frazer dealers everywhere courteous, efficient and happy to have us stop—although we really did not need service. Thanks to our Kaiser, we had a perfect trip."—From a Stuttgart, Ark., Housewife.

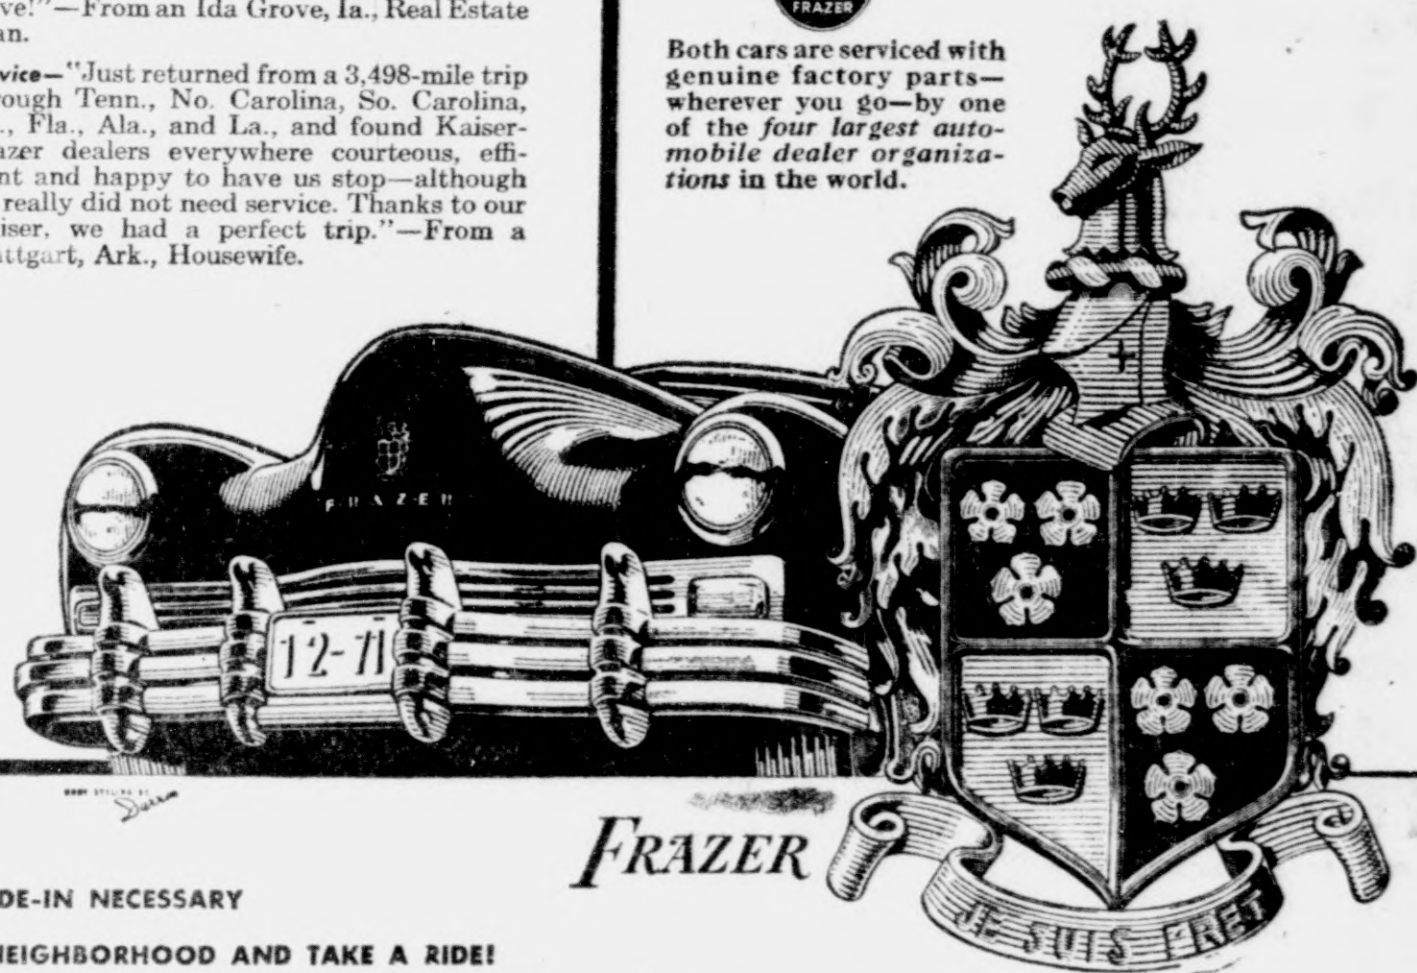

The famous emblems pictured here identify two automobiles that are America's greatest postwar motor car values! You will see them everywhere because there are now more than 95,000 KAISER and FRAZER owners—and every month an additional 14,000 to 15,000 smart people who know values, snap up Willow Run's current production.

It is not surprising that Kaiser-Frazer has never yet been able to build enough KAISER and FRAZER cars to fill the demand. For the word has spread that these cars are priced "right"—that nowhere else can you find such postwar value! Take a look at what our owners say they are getting for their new car dollars! Some of their voluntary statements are in the lower left-hand corner of this ad. These quotations are typical of thousands just like them on file at the factory.

If you are interested in the best possible investment of your personal transportation money come and see these cars! Drive either one! Then you be the judge. You will say that you never enjoyed such a ride before—in any car at any price!

And—another nice thing—Willow Run is producing 3 cars every 2 minutes. We are getting our share and are delivering now!

Both cars are serviced with genuine factory parts—wherever you go—by one of the four largest automobile dealer organizations in the world.

Donation Day At Almira Home Will Feature Open House

Donation Day Gifts Help Provide 180 Meals Per Day For Home Residents

Annually each fall for a number of years, one day has been designated as Donation Day for an ingathering of canned goods and staple groceries at Almira Home, on East Washington street.

This year Donation Day will be Wednesday, October 29, and in conjunction with it, for the first time, there will be open house at the home.

Housekeeping at Almira Home includes serving 60 meals a day three times a day for the home's 44 elderly lady residents, soon to be 47, and the staff, including eight maintenance workers, five nurses, and Mrs. Lola B. Harris, superintendent.

Amount of Potatoes and Sugar

An average of two bushels of potatoes are used each week in the kitchen. Sugar is stored in 100-pound cans, and one of these is depleted in slightly over a month, as all baking, except bread, is done at the home.

Canned Vegetables and Fruit

After Donation Day a year ago, the fruit room held nearly 800 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables given by friends on Donation Day, but those were all emptied at the rate of more than 100 quarts a month, and were gone by last May.

Gallons of Milk

Of milk, the Almira Home residents drink an amazing amount, considering that few are under 80 years of age. The average is almost a quart per day of which some is used for cooking. Six gallons are delivered every day at the home and some days as many as nine gallons.

But it is over jams, jellies, preserves, marmalades, etc. that the residents are particularly enthusiastic. And picnilli, ground relishes, and pickles are favorites too.

One article popular with Donation Day contributors before the wartime scarcity and very acceptable is soap, a few cakes or many.

Gifts of money are of course highly acceptable and of recent years a number of generous ones have been received at the annual ingathering.

On Sunday, the ladies enjoyed a rare treat when the home received as a Donation Day gift enough chickens for chicken to be served for dinner. Meals at the home are of a high standard, but do not call for "chicken every Sunday" and this gift of chickens, one of the first and largest Donation Day gifts to date, was joyfully received.

Visitors Welcome

Visitors will be welcomed at the open house on October 29 to be held in conjunction with Donation Day. The Almira Home has long been a landmark in the city and the open house will afford many, who ordinarily might not have occasion to visit it, a chance to do so. Everybody is welcome. Mrs. W. Walter Braham is Donation Day chairman.

Rotary Hears Of Industry's Need

Pennsylvania's Long-Range
Program To Attract New Industries Explained

J. C. WACHTMAN
EXPLAINS NEED

In connection with Pennsylvania Week, New Castle Rotary Club heard an explanation of Pennsylvania's fight to attract new industries, new capital, and new citizens, when J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, addressed the club at its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday noon.

Instead of Pennsylvania Week being observed for such a short period, the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce stresses the need for every citizen of every community being a booster for Pennsylvania throughout the entire year. Mr. Wachtman stated.

Many old established industries are on a long downward trend, it was explained, and new industries must be secured to replace them. Employment and business opportunities have been growing for years in new lines of production, but in spite of this, the overall trend has been downward, due to the terrific competition offered by other states.

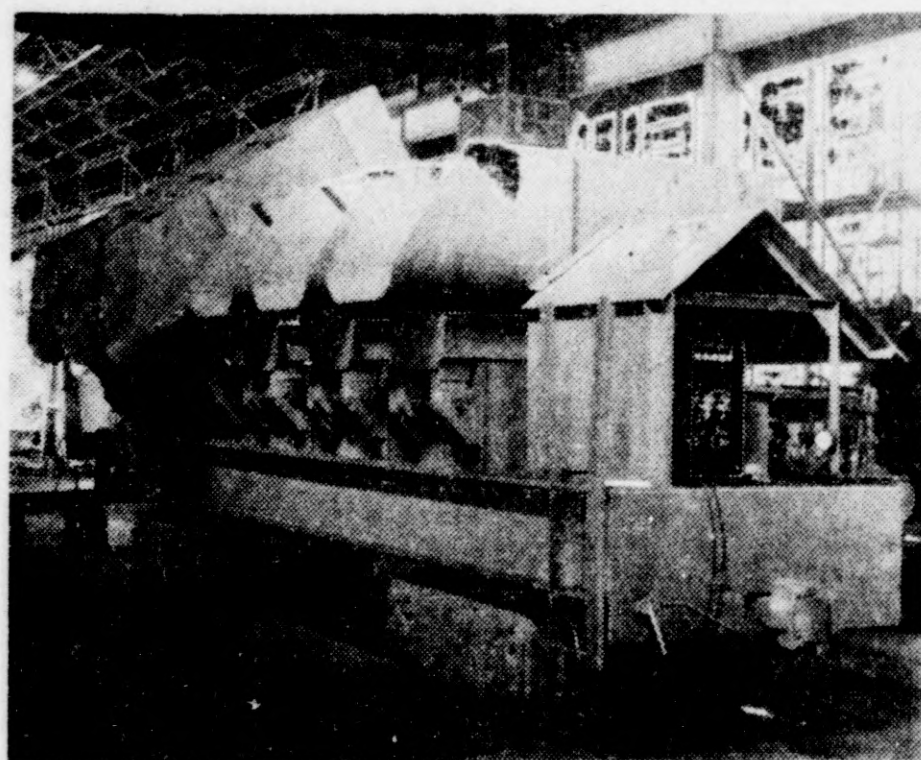

Many states and municipalities have engaged in long-trend advertising campaigns, and are offering many special inducements to industries to leave old localities and to move into new areas, many having been weaned away from Pennsylvania, it was stated.

It was pointed out that no other state in the Union can match Pennsylvania in its strategic location to markets and shipping points; in source of raw materials; in its rich markets, catering to over ten million people; in the highest type of skilled labor; and a record of industrial successes unmatched by any other state.

What each community can do was suggested, by joining the Pennsylvania Economic Development Council; getting a group busy in each county to bring in new industries and businesses; put to work the tools the States Department of Commerce can provide; aim to attract the kind of industries which provide steady employment; encourage greater diversification of industry; and encourage the expansion of industries already here by patronizing them.

Mr. Wachtman's talk was enthusiastically received.

New Scrap Loading Equipment

This may look to you like a railroad car with giant sugar scoops on top. It isn't anything of the sort. This is an automatic scrap metal loading car, the first of its kind, which has just been completed by the Pennsylvania Engineering Corporation here. It is destined for Detroit, Mich., where it will be used by the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in its Bessemer plant.

The contract of the Pennsylvania here was for two 25 ton Bessemer converters with all auxiliary equip-

Loses $150 In Telephone Booth

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—It cost Miss Melba Morgan, of Pittsburgh, more than $150 to make a five cent telephone call.

Miss Morgan told police she stopped in a drug store yesterday to make a local call. She left her purse in the phone booth.

As soon as she was out on the street she missed the purse, but when she returned it was gone.

and confusion, thereby impeding a program already far too long delayed.

One suggestion is being considered to get around such a conflict. That is to make the ambassador a member of the board of directors of the subsidiary corporation in the country to which he is accredited.

All this is, of course, tentative. But such a concept is being developed. It will be offered when the Marshall plan is introduced and it will have wide support certainly in the House and perhaps in the Senate, too.

Some of the ideas discussed go far beyond this. They foresee an extraordinary degree of American supervision over how American funds shall be used within the individual country. These ideas show imagination and boldness. They are of Republican rather than Democratic origin.

On the one hand, Americans must feel that these bold concepts push the United States too far in the direction of superintendence over Europe's fortunes. On the other hand, Europeans may feel that such powers tread too heavily on the delicate ground of sovereignty. That will be known in the future. But one thing is certain, and that is that America is embarked on an extraordinary adventure.

SOME PLACE TO DIE
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—For two days his automobile kept "bucking."

In desperation, N. W. Heakin, of Pittsburgh, lifted the hood—and found a dead cat draped over the sparkplugs.

Today the car was operating normally.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

champion poll taker of America, and if my information is correct, he is making millions out of it. He syndicates his results in the leading newspapers throughout the country at high fees and up to the present time his forecasts have been eminently accurate. He maintains a staff of the best brains in the information gathering business in the country. Since he sells it for a price, it is of course copyrighted, and it is not exactly safe to tamper with his stuff.

However, recently he departed from the usual political predictions and sent his fact-finders into the homes to find out what people were thinking about on such trivial things as, for example, Do Gentlemen Really Prefer Blondes and What Is the Cause of So Many Divorces? And Do Your Feet Hurt? And Do You Like to Get Up in the Morning? And Are Your Superstitions About Black Cats?

Obviously, this has some of the elements of an invasion of the sanctity of the home, without a search warrant, and Dr. Gallup should not complain too much if some of us ordinary and obscure home-lovers have a word or two to say about his crowding into our privacy.

After all, the free press of America still has some responsibilities to its constituency when rank outsiders start prying into our secrets and giving us away.

Sensational Revelation
In order to grip public attention at the first fell swoop, the doctor opens up with the sensational revelation that only six out of ten gentlemen prefer blondes. And it's a good thing he says, because only eight per cent of the women are blond.

Then Mr. Gallup follows this mooded question with a report from his poll that most people declare there is entirely too much kissing and petting before marriage. This has all the appearance of being a rigged criticism. Mr. Gallup is a man of advanced years, and it is natural to conclude that his reason for coming out against kissing and petting is because he can no longer get anyone to take him on. It is just a clever evasion of the issue of juvenile delinquency, and he probably hasn't the nerve to tackle that one.

He also says that wives prefer good temper in their husbands above faithfulness, which any man of the most limited experience knows is not true. He follows this up with naming the causes of matrimonial quarrels, the first being money, the second jealousy and the third children. No man, he says, wants any children until the second year. Here again experience shows these conclusions to be twisted. Money may have its place in marital discord, but it usually begins when the old man starts blowing it on some blonde when he should take it home for the babies, and it is not surprising that the little wife hits the ceiling. But there is seldom a jealousy in it. She's just sore because she married such a simpleton.

And here is one: only thirty-seven per cent of the people claim they are happy, fifty-seven per cent fairly happy and four per cent sore at the world.

If Dr. Gallup would care for an analysis of that poll, I respectfully submit that the uppermost cause for the real or imaginary unhappiness of most people is because they are sorry for themselves, and nothing else.

"You'll be fresh
when you arrive . . ."

These words from Oldsmobile's new "radio song" have never been so aptly illustrated as in a typical ride to a football game. There's often a long distance to be covered. There's always traffic to contend with. Yet, if you're the driver of an Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive, you can . . . "Just forget the clutch and gear. All you do is sit and steer." That's true in football traffic, or any other traffic. True on the highway, too. Hydra-Matic Drive takes care of all gear shifting—automatically—through four forward speeds. And the clutch pedal is eliminated completely! What makes it even more impressive . . . this will be the ninth football season in which Hydra-Matic Drive has enabled Oldsmobile-owning fans to go to the games the easy way. GM Hydra-Matic Drive is a fully perfected, fully proved feature—and there's still nothing else on the market to compare with it.

Oldsmobile introduced Hydra-Matic Drive* 8 years ago. Today, Oldsmobile is still the lowest-priced car to offer it. Add to this Oldsmobile's traditional style-leadership—plus Oldsmobile's all-round, fine-car quality—and you'll see why so many football fans are Oldsmobile fans as well. You'll agree that . . .

One Day's Pay Would Assure Chest Successes

Day's Earnings Pledge By Employed Workers Asked
By Drive Chairman

"Give once for twelve, but give enough for all."

That is the slogan of the Community Chest campaign. Were it not for this campaign, citizens would be asked for twelve separate contributions to support these agencies. By consolidating the appeals, much time and annoyance is saved. But the plan can be successful only if people contribute enough in this one campaign to support all twelve agencies.

A day's pay per employed worker as a contribution to the Chest will enable all the agencies to receive their necessary share. Meager gifts or refusal to give will jeopardize the success of the drive and the work of the agencies.

"If the Chest contributor will divide his gift by twelve," G. F. Winter, Jr., campaign chairman said, "he will see what his contribution means to each of the agencies. If there were individual campaigns for all he would probably give far more."

"This is a job that concerns everyone for everyone's benefit from the Chest agencies. It is truly a community undertaking. All of the community benefits and all of the community must give."

Why Duke And Duchess Didn't Get Invitation

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The secretary of the Duke of Windsor announced today that neither the former King nor his American-born Duchess have been invited to the forthcoming wedding of Princess Elizabeth.

According to the secretary, the statement was the result of considerable thought and preparation on the Windsor's part. The secretary said that the Duke will not add to it.

It was believed that the Duke discussed the question with King George during a recent visit.

At the time, the Duke was reported to have insisted upon the Duchess being present if he were to attend, whereupon decision was made not to invite them.

Court circles pointed out that if a single invitation went to the Duke, it would have been tantamount to a royal command. Court etiquette would have demanded acceptance, and the Duke would not have accepted even if it meant risking a grave insult to the king.

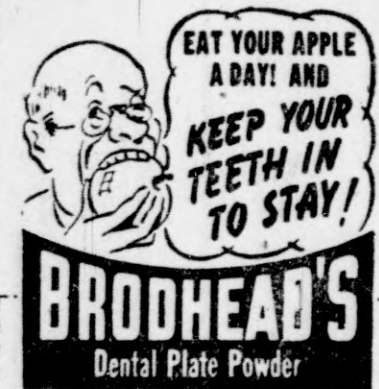

Wheat Exports Show Big Jump

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Census Bureau reported today that United States exports of wheat in August totaled 16 million, 833 thousand bushels—more than double American shipments in July.

The August wheat exports were valued at 41 million, 400 thousand dollars as compared with the July overseas shipments of seven million, 65 thousand bushels priced at 17 million, 300 thousand dollars.

Offsetting the increase in wheat exports was a drop in corn shipments which plunged from 23 million, 800 thousand dollars worth in July to nine million, 100 thousand dollars in August.

The August value of crude foodstuffs shipped abroad was four million, 600 thousand dollars higher than the July figure of 62 million dollars.

City Hall Council Orders Payment Made

Architects To Be Paid For Work Done On City Hall
Plans And Specifications

ANNEXATION PLAN GIVEN BY WHITE

Council met in city hall Monday and upon motion of Property Director Joseph D. Alexander approved a bill presented by Eckles & Thayer, for $8,436 for plans and supervising work on the sub-base-ment of the new city building which is to be erected at North Jefferson and Grant streets. Payments amounting to $5,334, previously were made. The total is $13,770.

The architects already have delivered to council working drawings and specifications for the completion of the building, made up in accordance with the approved preliminary drawings and council's directions.

"We are ready, whenever you wish, to proceed with the construction of the building" their communication stated.

REGARDING ANNEXATION
In reply to the request of J. Clyde Gilfillan that 54 lots abutting on Hazlecroft avenue in Neshannock township, be annexed to the city, so he can connect the lots with the city sewer at Northview avenue, Solicitor R. M. White pointed out to council and Mr. Gilfillan the procedure of doing so.

His communication said there are two methods, as follows:

First, under sections 51 and 505, third class city code, if followed, it is necessary to have the written consent of a majority in number and interest of the property owners of that part of the township asking for annexation. Before this can be provided with however, there must be a notice given by newspaper advertisement once a week for four weeks. Such notice shall state the purpose of the petition and the date it will be ready for signing.

Must Be Presented To Council
All the petitions shall be accompanied by a plot or plots of the territory to be annexed, showing all streets and highways, municipal improvements, and public buildings.

After this has been done and petition signed, it should be presented to council which by ordinance, may annex that part of the township to the city. Certified copies of the ordinance and petition and plans shall then be filed in the office of the clerk of court of quarter sessions.

Action of council shall be conclusive unless a referendum petition is filed as provided in the third class city code or unless an appeal from the action of council is taken within 30 days by petition to the court of quarter sessions.

Fixes Date Of Hearing
If an appeal is taken the court shall fix a day for hearing and shall direct how notice shall be given. The court shall decide whether the proceedings are in conformity with the act and make a device accordingly. Only the regularity of the proceedings shall be before the court.

Any person interested may appeal to the quarter sessions or supreme court, the annexation shall take effect immediately.

The second method annexation is available solely because this land is outlying lots in a township. The procedure requires that a petition be filed at quarter sessions by taxable inhabitants, which provision might raise some question as to the availability of this method, since there are no persons now living on the land and for that reason Mr. White reported he cannot recommend its use in this case. It is by far the more simple method, where it is available. It is comprised in sections 515 and 518 of the third class city code.

Charge State Tax Law Being Evaded

Deliberate Violations Of Soft
Drink Tax Laws Are Alleged In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Several hundred thousand dollars in soft drinks excise taxes have been withheld by a number of Pennsylvania syrup manufacturers in "deliberate violation of the law," it was disclosed today by the state revenue department.

Some of the firms have refused payment of the one-half cent an ounce levy on syrups since the tax went into effect June 1, according to Deputy Secretary W. H. Beachy, chief of investigations and collections.

The manufacturers claimed they were withholding the tax money pending outcome of litigation challenging the constitutionality of the levy which also imposed a penny tax on each 12 ounces of bottled carbonated beverages. Beachy said, he disclosed between 35,000 and 40,000 soda fountains, stores and other retail firms were believed selling soda pop and drinks made with taxed syrup without permits.

State revenue agents have been ordered to start prosecutions against 10 syrup manufacturers and non-licensed retailers.

The manufacturers were not identified, but most were said to be located in Philadelphia. Beachy indicated others may be named in the crackdown. The excise was expected to yield $35,000,000 a biennium.

He indicated a check may be made to make certain all jobbers for out-of-state manufacturers were paying the tax. No bottlers were involved in the irregularities, he emphasized.

Roller Skates Left In Library

Owner Probably Does Not Know
Where The Shoe Skates
Were Forgotten

During the course of the year, there are many things left in books at the New Castle Public Library, or in the library proper, but Miss Alice Sterling librarian, finds that one of the most unusual articles left in the library was a pair of roller-skate shoes.

The shoe skates were discovered in the library reading room, on May 27, the last day the library was opened, prior to its closing for new improvements.

Since that time, there have been no calls for the skates, and no one has claimed them. The shoe skates are valued at perhaps $20.00, and are size 9 or 9½. Miss Sterling will appreciate it, if the owner will contact her.

Pittsburgher Buys Aleutians Surplus

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—More than $700,000 in surplus war materials, now on lonely Amchitka Island in the Aleutians, have been purchased by a Pittsburgh businessman from the War Assets Administration.

Melvin Braunstein, 25, an army veteran, said most of the material is automotive and heavy construction equipment. He said he and his partner, Theodore Hart, of near Philadelphia, plan to transport the equipment by freighter to the West Coast, sell most of it, and save the rest to start a construction business of their own.

Testing Uranium Found In Colorado

DENVER, Oct. 14.—(INS)—A Denver mineralogist revealed today that a uranium deposit, believed to be one of the richest in the world is being developed in Routt county in northwestern Colorado.

W. C. Paterson of Denver said samples of the ore brought to him by an unidentified prospector tested as high as 67.7 per cent uranium.

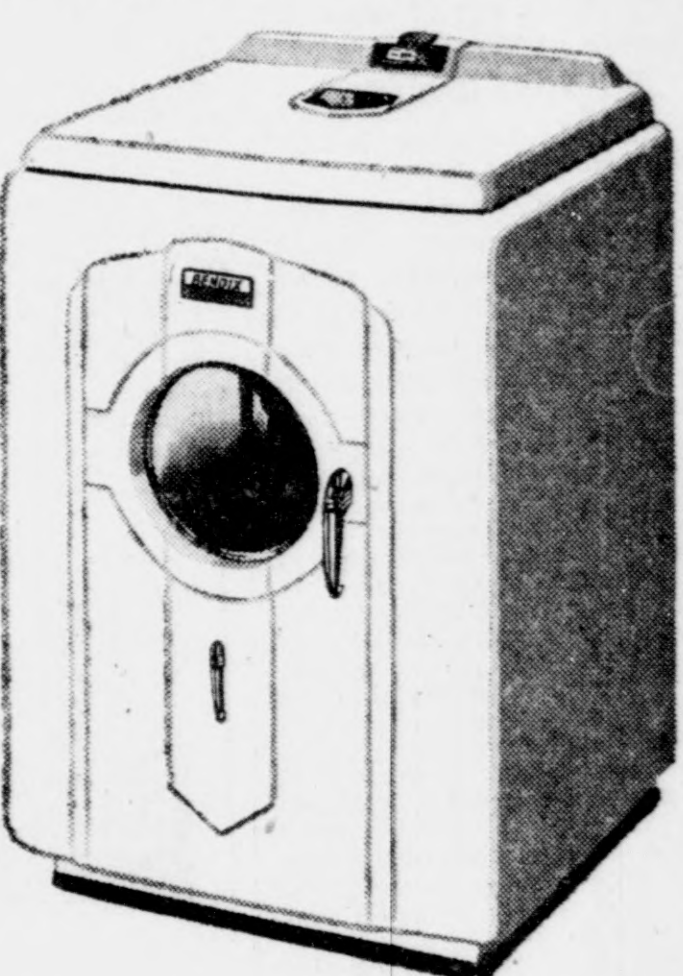

He declared the discovery may be of major importance to the nation's atomic energy research if further tests confirm the high uranium content of the ore.

Contributions Add To Band Trip Total

Organization And Individual
Contributions Help In Fund-Raising Project

Further additions to the "On to Bethlehem" fund for the New Castle senior high school band were reported today. The Loyal Order of Moose pledged $100 to the fund, the American Legion Auxiliary pledged $25 and the New Castle Refractories Company, $25. R. H. Cunningham added $10 to the fund.

Edward Raney, chairman of the committee raising funds to take the band to Bethlehem for the Thanksgiving football game said today that the committee is anxious to get the fund total as soon as possible. He explained that it would be necessary to make a number of arrangement ten days or two weeks before Thanksgiving.

Among the arrangements would be the railroad transportation, hotel accommodations, meals and the like. It has been estimated that a total of $4,200 would be necessary. A little more than half of this has been raised.

Bessemer Teacher Resigns After 19 Years On Faculty

Ill Health Brings About Resignation Of Miss Esther Landman, English-Civics Teacher

Completing 19 years of faithful service on the faculty of the Bessemer high school, Miss Esther Landman has tendered her resignation to her superiors due to ill health. Miss Landman came to Bessemer as a teacher of girls' physical education and English and in recent years taught only English and civics as her health did not permit the more strenuous program of the physical education work.

Active in many and varied fields, Miss Landman directed more than a dozen high school plays, supervised senior commencement and class night activities on a number of occasions and planned and supervised not a few junior-senior proms. She has been faculty sponsor of the Courtesy club for several years and for the past three years has been faculty supervisor of the Junior Red Cross activities in Bessemer schools.

Happy in the fact that she was always going something for the students and former members of the school student body, Miss Landman did much to maintain morale among Bessemer high school graduates during the war by faithfully corresponding with many of her former pupils in almost every corner of the world.

Shortly before her departure from the school, the long time member of the faculty was the recipient of several beautiful gifts. The Courtesy club presented her with a portable radio and the pupils and school staff gave her a watch band as a remembrance. Both faculty and pupils of the school sent their good wishes with her.

Mrs. Rheda Glaspey, wife of the science teacher, Robert Glaspey, will assume Miss Landman's teaching duties for the remainder of the school term and next fall it is planned to shift Miss Landman's English work to another member of the faculty and to secure a teacher certified in girls' physical education and social studies. The position will not be filled for several months from the applications already on file for the position.

Duffle Bags Are Hard To Secure

Mrs. W. R. Wallace, teacher of the King's Daughters class of the First Methodist Sunday school of this city, reports that her class has filled their duffle bag, and has material enough to fill two or three additional duffle bags.

The Lawrence County Sabbath School Association that is sponsoring this Overseas Relief campaign, has been notified that there is a temporary shortage of duffle bags. However, quite a number have already been sent to residents in Lawrence county, and in case there are any that cannot be put to use right away, call County Sunday School headquarters, phone 351, and arrangements will be made to place them where they are needed now. Those who have ordered duffle bags and have not received them as yet, the chances are that they will be received in the near future as the supply is being replenished.

Mrs. Ethel Patterson of 707 Young street, forwarded two well filled duffle bags yesterday to the Service Center in Maryland, to be checked over for renovation and repair before being sent to the needy in countries overseas.

Active Girl Scout Troops Sustained By Chest Funds

Girl Scouts of New Castle, of which there are 620, represent the future of the country, and with the international membership of the movement, hold high hopes for the future of the world.

The Scouts in the past year brighten the holidays of people less fortunate than themselves by making and delivering 700 favors to the hospitals, the county home, Alms Home, Neighborhood House, Salvation Army and the Margaret Henry Home.

Patients of the local hospitals were cheered by carols at Christmas time sung by local Scouts, and were the weary shoppers in our stores and on the community streets.

During Girl Scout Week they acquainted the people of New Castle with their handicraft by means of window displays.

Many Activities
The program of Girl Scouting being balanced, many activities were conducted for the entertainment and pleasure of the Scouts.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent, scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits a poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TO BOOST PARKING FEES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 14.—The cost of downtown parking is going up, parking lot operators disclosed today. There are two angles to the price boost, revenue is increased and all-day parkers are discouraged.

The parking lot operators frown at "steadies." Short-term parkers bring quick turnovers and more profits. The general scale prevailing downtown now is four hours for a quarter plus a nickel for each additional hour.

Manpower Needed For Paper Drive

Citizens Instructed To Tie Bundles Of Paper, Magazines And Cardboard Securely

Announcement was made today, that if the paper drive to be conducted Saturday, October 18, is to be successful, more manpower is needed to facilitate the collections throughout the city. Proceeds of the drive will go toward the repair fund of the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home and the community rose garden of the Lawrence County Garden club.

Any citizen wishing to assist in the drive, may do so by reporting at the Conn Welding Shop on S. Croton avenue extension, just off South Mill street, on the former Rosa furnace grounds at 12:45 p. m. Saturday. Mrs. Thomas Sheriff, president of the Garden club can be notified of those willing to aid in the work. To be successful, at least 100 men must be on hand to carry out the project.

Three types of material will be received, newspaper, magazines and cardboard. Each must be tied securely in smaller bundles so as to facilitate handling. A higher price is secured for bundled material than the unbundled.

Polk Inmate Is Strangled To Death

FRANKLIN, Oct. 14.—Judge Lee A. McCracken will issue a ruling in the case of John Smiley, 18, inmate of Polk state school, charged with the strangulation of Jack Hullihen, 25, another inmate, late Saturday night.

At first it appeared Hullihen might have died of natural causes, but when Dr. Frederic W. Wilson, Venango county coroner, performed an autopsy Sunday, it was revealed Hullihen had been strangled.

Smiley admitted scuffling with Hullihen and confessed he choked the latter to death "because he made so much noise." Judge McCracken is expected to sign papers directing Smiley be taken to the asylum for the criminal insane at Fairview.

GUNMEN GET $75,000

AKRON, Oct. 14.—Four gunmen overpowered a watchman and obtained $75,000 in cash from two safes early Monday at a gambling house in suburban Barberton.

In the third robbery of an Akron area gambling establishment within two months, the robbers leaped from an alley, slugged Watchman Robert Powell, tied and gagged him and covered him with a billiard table cloth, the club employees told sheriff's deputies.

The origin of the red-and-white striped pole in front of a barber shop dates back to the times when barbers also practiced surgery. The stripes of the pole symbolized the bandage with which the barber wrapped the patient after blood-letting.

Rebuilding Pirates Continue To Buy Has-Beens

Stung In '46 Trades, Bucs Still Making Weird Deals

By JIMMY JORDAN
International News Service Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—One disastrous season of experimentation with has-beens of the diamond should be enough. But apparently it isn't.

The lush new management of the Pittsburgh Pirates, which tossed a total of $620,000 into the player kitty last season, only to wind up in a tie for last place in the National League, has begun rebuilding for 1948 by purchasing a Washington castoff and by tinkering with Branch (Fancy Grampaw) Ricker for some of his players.

It doesn't seem likely they'll get much from Ricker, if anything. He has announced he intends to rebuild his 1947 champions from top to bottom. But down through the years he has had a penchant for getting rid of players just before they were washed up, completely.

The Dizzy Dean case is a glaring example. And that $30,000 deal with the Pirates last summer is another.

The Pirates got Kirby Higbe, Gene Mauch, Dixie Howell, Cal McLish and Hank Behrman for that bundle of cash and Outfielder Al Glonfriddo.

Higbe won eight and lost 15 for the Bucs. Mauch was sent to Indianapolis. McLish went to Kansas City. Howell did a lot of catching for Pittsburgh—the best part of the deal. Behrman was sent back to Brooklyn and Pittsburgh was refunded $50,000.

That was the biggest of all the deals made by the Pirates last year, and was just about as successful or unsuccessful—as any of the rest.

Probably the most glaring was the trade with Boston, almost a year ago. Bob Elliott and Hank Camelli went to Boston for Billy Herman, Whitey Wietelman and Pitcher Elmer Singleton. Elliott became the league's outstanding third baseman. Camelli did most of Boston's catching.

Herman played but little for Pittsburgh. Wietelman did a bit of infield duty, and then was shunted to the minors. Singleton was used only in relief roles, although a comparative youngster.

There were others—Eddie Basinski, $30,000 from Ricker. He couldn't stay. Hank Greenberg, $50,000 and a big salary. Greenberg now has gone. Jimmy Bloodworth, Bob Malloy, Tiny Bonham, Jim Bagby, Al Lyons, Mel Queen, Lou Tost, Roger Wolff, Frank Kalin, Manuel Perez, Vic Buccola, Clyde Klutts, Wally Westlake, Dewey Soriano. The latter cost $30,000 and was shunted to the Coast League before the season started. Westlake cost $50,000 and the outfielder was not a regular. Klutts' price tag was $40,000. He caught about half the time aside from a period when he had a broken wrist.

Leahy Indignant As Critics Rap His Team's Play

Comparison To Michigan Power-house Brings Flare-Up By Irish Coach

By CHARLES EINHORN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Yes, Notre Dame would like to play Michigan in football.

You have that today on the word of Frank Leahy, the Irish coach, who thundered:

"We want nothing more than to play Michigan... any Saturday... any fall!"

It was the only point where the soft-spoken Irish coach became defiant yesterday in answering a score of questions from the floor at the regular meeting of the Chicago Monday quarterbacks. The query was point-blank.

"What's the matter with Notre Dame football this fall? You're supposed to be like Michigan. What would happen if you played Michigan?"

And Leahy, knowing full well, that Michigan higher-ups don't want to schedule Notre Dame in football, delivered his scathing reply—a reply which, incidentally, drew a spontaneous ovation from a gathering of 700 fans.

Promises Improvement

"One thing I can promise you," said Leahy, whose Notre Dame eleven has looked sluggish in beating Pitt 40-6 and Purdue 22-7 so far this fall, "we are going to improve from Saturday to Saturday."

Asked what he would do should Quarterback Johnny Lujack be injured and fail to play, Leahy responded that a number of reserve quarterbacks, including Pete Ashbaugh and Frank Tripucka, are coming along and "will give a better account of themselves than most of you suspect."

Frankie Gustine Undergoes Knife

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Frankie Gustine, third baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, today underwent an operation for double hernia in Pittsburgh's Presbyterian hospital.

The popular Pirate infielder, who recently accepted a position as basketball coach at Waynesburg, Pa., College, said he expected to be out of the hospital within ten days and would be ready to take over his coaching duties before practice begins in mid-November.

He had been suffering from the affliction for nearly three years, but it never had reached the serious stage.

Membership Books To Be Turned In

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association who have membership books are expected to turn them in at tonight's meeting which will be held in the courthouse at 8 o'clock, according to Sheriff Frank Coen, president of the organization. After the business meeting, a wild life motion picture will be displayed.

Tech Is Crippled For Wesleyan Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Coach Bill Donohoe of Carnegie Tech is wondering what he'll have left for a football team after the Tartans open the season against West Virginia Wesleyan Saturday.

Today he took stock of things and found he had eight players, including four first-stringers, on the casualty list—and they haven't played a game.

Regulars injured during recent scrimmage sessions were guards John Maxton and Tex Shapiro 230-pound tackle Roland Guttendorf, and left halfback Hugh Logsdon.

Warren Fighter Finishes Strong

After Losing First Round Lallo Rallies; McGinley Defeats Benedetto

Lallo Sabotin, Warren high school youth, last night before a small crowd in The Arena, defeated Ike Bell, of Youngstown, in three fast rounds. Bell took the first round, but Sabotin captured the last two rounds. Six of the eight bouts were good.

Bell slugged Sabotin with rights and lefts, driving him around midway in the first round, but toward the end of the round, Sabotin blocked Bell's leads.

After scoring repeatedly to the head in the second, Bell almost dropped Sabotin to the floor, following which Sabotin shifted his attack to the body, that paved the way for victory.

He hammered Bell's midriff and forced him to hold and it was apparent that Sabotin's punishment to the wind had exacted their toll when Bell walked to his corner.

Sneak Punch

After shaking hands for the third and last round, Bell sneaked a punch to the head that drew boos from the crowd. Sabotin paid no attention to the punch.

He drove Bell to the ropes with left to the head and punches to the body and made Bell miss. Sabotin hammered Bell's stomach while he was backed on the ropes and holding.

Lallo hooked to the body and in the center of the ring, Bell put a right to the rear of the head. Sabotin retaliated in like manner. Bell was backed to the ropes, held and was not fighting back at the bell.

Sabotin won the official decision. Fans yelled for Pete Misto of Youngstown, when he failed to appear to fight Pat McGinley of Pittsburgh at 143. However, Misto wasn't missed much because Danny Benedetto put up a good fight with McGinley.

Wins Close Decision

There wasn't much to choose between the welterweights. In fact, the fight was so close the judges gave it to McGinley and Referee Ray Leyschock voted for Benedetto. McGinley deserved the win.

Other results were as follows: Susky Harris, Youngstown, outboxed Calvin Hill, Warren, at 140, in three rounds. He was cagier and outboxed Hill.

Thoris Moore, Youngstown, scored a hollow knockout over Pat Hagin, Pittsburgh, at 155, in the first. Moore caught Hagin on the chin a couple of times; dunned Hagin and he took a count of 10.

Bruce Webb, Warren, was dished in three rounds by Bob Wilson, Youngstown, at 140. Webb kept dancing in a circle backward. Wilson tried to make a fight out of it but Webb wouldn't stand up and fight.

Bill Schumde, Pittsburgh, and Jim Marshall, Youngstown, put on a caveman's fight. It was a free-swinging three round battle. Both lacked experience but fans liked the fight which on a split decision went to Schumde. They weighed 165.

Billy Underwood, Youngstown, defeated Angelo Bakeris, Warren, at 130, in three rounds of a good fight while the first bout between

Union-Shenango In County Scrap

Class "B" Schools Will Hug Spotlight In Only Local Game Friday Night

Union's "Scotties" and Shenango's "Wildcats" will take the center of the grid stage Friday night as the two county rivals clash in the only local attraction.

Neither school has found much glory on the fall's grids but their meeting will help to determine the county title-holder for the 1947 season. Both have notched only one win, but they discount the records when they meet and a slam-bang tussle is anticipated.

Bessemer At Zelle

Bessemer, surprised by Darlington last week, will hit the road to take on a rugged Zellenople eleven, and hopes to get back into the victory column.

Both the county's class AA schools, New Castle and Ellwood City, will be out of town. The Hurricane has a Friday afternoon date with Mt. Lebanon's Blue Devils, while the Wolverines go to Allegheny for a scrap.

Neither of these opponents have had much to shout about this year, Mt. Lebanon owning a win over Carick against four setbacks, and the Quips edging Butler while losing four other battles.

Washington Plays Franklin Saturday

Adult tickets are 50 cents a piece and will not be reserved. The adults will sit in the concrete stands, with the students occupying the steel bleachers. Students may buy tickets in their respective schools, or at the Cunningham avenue gate Saturday.

UMPS MEET WEDNESDAY

The Lawrence County Umpires association will have a special meeting at the "Y" at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, to windup the 1947 business.

Six-Day Bicycle Racer Injured

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Mike Abt of Chicago, who with Charley Bergna of Paterson, N. J., is in the lead in the six-day bicycle race, was back in action today after a narrow escape from serious injury.

Mike suffered a spill last night at the Chicago Coliseum, hurting his back. X-rays, however, failed to reveal any broken bones.

Bergna peddled in Abt's absence and increased the lead the two have held since the race started three days ago.

At the 678-mile mark, the pair has a total of 22 points.

Tom Saetta, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Sam Rinella, Alameda, Cal., were in second place.

White Sox Start Rebuilding Team

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox were started today on their rebuilding program for next year following their release of veteran pitchers Thornton Lee and Charlie "Red" Ruffing.

Ruffing, 43, broke into baseball 27 years ago and first pitched for the Boston Red Sox in 1925.

Lee, a left hander, came to the White Sox in 1937 and won 64 games in the next five seasons.

So-Called Underdogs Smack Down Grid Foes

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Formula for picking football winners: Take a selected few power-houses—Michigan, Penn State, California, etc.—and then pick the underdog in all remaining contests.

At least this procedure would have been highly successful Saturday when the "prevailing odds" tables was riddled by an epidemic of upsets.

That 47-0 jolt which Virginia handed Harvard recalled the Crimson's historic upset by little Centre many years ago. This time the Cantabs, venturing south of the Potomac for the first time in their history, absorbed their worst drubbing since 1935.

More important from a national standpoint was Army's feat in holding Illinois, Big Nine and Rose Bowl champions, to a scoreless tie. Army thus extended its undefeated streak to 31 games.

Army draws a breather this week in V.P.I., but Illinois tackles Minnesota in the top game. The Illini and Gophers not only are tied for first place in the western conference standings but also are leading contenders for national honors.

Notre Dame's "team of destiny" did not look overly impressive in grinding out a 22-7 decision over Purdue. The Irish now take on a Nebraska eleven which beat Iowa State 14-7. Highly-touted Texas, which rolled over Oklahoma 34-14 with Bobby Layne completing 8 out of 11 passes, should have no trouble with Arkansas, which lost to Baylor 17-9 in an upset.

Villanova is making plans to resume swimming and a schedule will be announced soon. The pool was not available last season.

STUNG IN '46 TRADES, BUCS MAKING DEALS

Of them all, few are expected to be around next year. Bagby has gone. Tost didn't play with the Bucs, and has been sent along. Wolff has gone to Sacramento.

Now they've purchased Bob Grace from Washington. Grace, an outfielder, sat on the bench most of last season despite the fact the Senators' most glaring need was for good outfielders.

Trial Progresses

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Patricia Schmidt, nervous and admittedly frightened by prospects of a possible 30-year sentence, will undergo grilling in Audencia Court today to determine who loaded the gun with which she killed John L. Mee.

The dark-haired Toledo, O., nightclub dancer, no longer as confident of acquittal as she was before she went to trial last Wednesday, will return to the stand to resume her account of how and why she slew the Chicago lawyer aboard his yacht last April 8. Loading of the gun is an important feature of the defense case. The 22-year-old entertainer has testified she snuffed out her strange romance with Mee by firing a bullet into his neck because he threatened to kill her during a quarrel. She contends she did not remember how the bullets got into the 22-calibre target gun.
